Description

If first existed account failed to connect, password "forgotten" by Beem. Its OK.
But when i try to fix it, I saw Account wizard again. It's strange, account already exist.
OK, pick "Use existing account". JID already filed from previous tries, time to type password.
But button "Next" still greyed, and activated only if I back to JID and change it (for example backspace last char and type it again).

P.S. seems Wizard need to be more clear and logic. For example 3 different choices:

- Use existing Google account
- Use existing custom account
- Create new acc (than choice google or other)
